the 15th of October, 2012

I had a wonderful day! With twenty pupils from class 2.C I visited a farmhouse only 200 metres from our schoolyard. And guess what we saw! Hens, cocks, pheasants, soft and curly rabbits, quails and beautiful sheep! There were also two rams among the sheep herd. The children draw pictures of their favourite animals. My favourite is sheep — naturally.

During the week we also learned how to make berries of wool and thread. I did not understand all the numbers in math class but the stories 22/05/2014 12:28 rabbits were very exciting.

5th November 2012
My first trip was in Spain.
I flew to Barcelona on the 5th November, there I had to meet a lot of pupils and teachers from all over Europe. I was very excited! The school where I had to be introduced was IE Saint Verdaguer, situated on the north-east coast of Catalonia. I was very happy to go there because I was told that the weather was always sunny and warm. So I thought I could walk around everyday and run along the green mountains there! I knew it would be amazing!

8th November 2012
I remember this right moment a lot because here I was introduced to all those pupils.
They are some from classes 3rA and 3rB and Comenius pupils as well.

February

Dear Diary!

The next Comenius meeting was in Kangasala. I travelled here with the Spanish kids. The flight was really good.

In Finland there was really much snow, and it was about minus 5°C.

I saw the kids when they met their hosts. I knew they would have new friendship.

We had so many programs in the next days. A worker from Rovio, a Finnish firm came to Uaticala school and showed us his job.

On this day we had a Valentine day party.

We were in Tampere, we went to sleight ride, and we had so many projects.

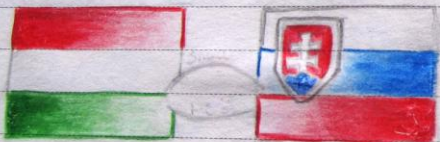

22/05/2014 12:29

On Saturday I come to Hungary with the Hungarian group.

The Hungarian group was happy because it was a really good experience.

The next Comenius meeting will be in Hungary in May and directly after it in there will be another meeting in Slovakia.

I am looking forward to it, I'm sure it will be really good !!!

wonderful flute music.
The class started to learn playing on flute in October, loud sounds came but quite good. On the last lesson of the day they were talking about what they would like to be in the future. We have made some copies of their

in the diary.
They would like to be a Dj, an actor, a singer, a

ARRIVAL TO KOŠICE

22nd May 2013

I arrived from Budapest to Košice with my Commenius friends.

23rd May 2013

I was very busy. Everyone was very nice and I had a lot of new friends immediately. We had lecture about mining. Suddenly someone came.

It was Rudolf Schuster, former president of Slovakia and mayor of the most beautiful city - Košice, with his colleague, Mr. Labančí. It was very exciting. They were speaking almost all languages. Very interesting was the Street of Historical Crafts with a real baker, blacksmith, potter, shoemaker, jeweller... I saw Urban's Tower, St. Elizabeth's Cathedral and many other historical buildings.

24th May 2013

In "Stummo" Museum I saw tools used in past and tasted traditional food.

Students from Private conservatoire were dancing, singing, playing the musical instruments. On the stage, I saw my dear animal friends. The Town Nice and the Country Nice.

Students worked in groups. They learn a lot of new information and made everything memorable.

Dear Diana,

I got a wonderful present today from a girl Martina Huzárová. Guess what!

From 14th to 18th October we had a Week of healthy food because the 16th October is the WORLD DAY OF HEALTHY FOOD. We were talking about healthy and unhealthy food.

We had Cereal Monday, Fruit Tuesday, Dairy Wednesday, Meat Thursday, Fish Friday.

We baked some bread, prepared some healthy cakes, salad, we made puppets from fruit and vegetables, we had a lot of exercises.

On the Dairy Wednesday children were watching a film about a farmhouse with many sheep. Then they drew one and she said, that I am very useful.

A day in the life of Snow Sunrise

Got up from a lovely dream. It was basically just what I do every day. For breakfast, I tried some scrambled grass. Meh, it'll do for until lunch. After a while of wandering, I found an electric fence. I tried the old grass-in-mouth touch trick. I pick up some grass in my mouth and touch the fence. I felt a tingly feel. That means it's on. I walked away from the fence just as it turned to...

Morning

More wandering. I eventually got stuck for quite a while. In mud, and a lot of it, too! While I was stuck, I practised playing the flute. It's no good lugging it around if you don't practise! Wait, should a sheep even know that? And if I know that, why don't I know how to tell the time the human way? Is this what they call 'pondering'? Well, that ponder time goes through to...

Midday

I headed off for lunch. Grass a la pasture. Lovely treat for a sheep, don't you think? Anyway, we were lined up to be sheared today. It feels great to have all that fur off in time for summer! On that note, the pigs should be getting sun cream as they can be sunburnt! The coat should grow back in a month or so, depending on how much I eat, and look! It's already the...

Afternoon

I decided to have a go at jumping the fence with my friends. Heard it can put a human to sleep! Counting us, that is. I also tried kicking the tree to see if any apples fell down. Three came out. Lovely snack and I had some curried grass for teatime. What a treat! In fact, I think that's the best thing I ever tasted...whoops, excuse me, didn't mean to sneeze a whiff. I'd better cover my nose before it's...

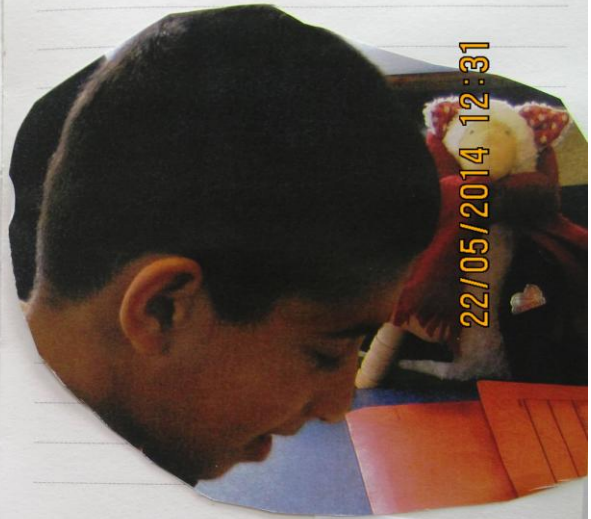

22/05/2014 12:31

Evening

I decided to join in the bleating choir's practice. Three more days & I could be in on it! I hear they accept only the best bleaters. If not, I could always try sheepdog-whispering. Hmm...

By bedtime, I was already tired out. I slowly sank off to sleep just before the owls woke up. Good timing, eh?
